CONTEST OF NATIONAL IMPORT

Presidential Preference

Vote in U.S.

Ballot Gives Each Elector an Opportunity to Name Delegates to National Conventions and Also to Name Choice for President.

Bismarck, N. D., March 19.-The voters of this state are today casting their ballots in the first presidential preference primary ever held in the United States. The ballot gives each voter an opportunity to designate his choice for the ten delegates who will represent the state at the national conventions of the different parties, and at the same time permits him to name the presidential candidate for whom these delegates shall cast their Interest Nation-Wide.

Interest in today's contest is national wide, not simply because it marks the inauguration of a new system of choosing presidential candidates, but chiefly because of the rivalry among the various candidates. HOW TO PRESERVE YOUTH AND BEAUTY.

One great secret of youth and beauty for the young women or the mother is the proper understanding of her womanly system and well-being. Byery woman, young or old, should know herself and her physical make up. A good way to arrive at this knowledge is to get a good doctor book, such for instance, as "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by R. V. Pierce, M. The womanly system is a delicate machine which can only be compared to the intricate mechanism of a beautiful watch which will keep in good running order only with good care and the proper oiling at the right time, so that the delicate mechanism may not be worn out. Very many times young women get old or run down before their time through ignorance and the improper handling of this human mechanism. CONSULTATION AND ADVICE FR EE

Consult me in strictest confidence if you are afflicted with any con tracted or inherited disease. Many men from fear that their troubles may become known by consulting a physcian neglect the early symptems of disease which if properly treated in the beginning would avert a serious chronic malady and save themselves much trouble, time, money, and annoyance in after years. I have cured hundreds of men of diseases that were thought incurable, and if you have been unsuccessfully treated don't lose hope of recovery untill you have seen me and gotten my opinion of your case, and I tell you that your malady is an incurable one I will be frank with you and if I see that I can do you no good, will tell you so. House to Adopt Proposed Excise Measure Today.

Representative Underwood Attributes Spread of Socialism to Supreme Court Decision of 1895.

Washington, March 19 .- Oscar W Underwood, Democratic leader of the house, supporting the proposed excise tax bill in the house, charged that the Supreme court by its annulment of the income tax in 1895 was responsible for the growth of socialism in the United States.

The pending measure, which probably will pass the house today, is expected to raise between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000 a year in revenue for government. Multimillionaires like Andrew Carnegie, J. Pierpont Morgan and John D. Rockefeller would be compelled to pay their full share of taxation under its terms, the Democratic leader declared.

"When the government had the right to tax wealth," said Mr. Underwood, "we did not hear the socialistic cry of those less able to bear the burden of taxation. The spirit of unrest came when the Supreme court abandoned its policy of a hundred years and five justices to four said in effect to congress that great wealth was to be exempted from taxation."

Mr. Underwood defended the meas ure under a rapid fire of questions from Representatives Mann, Republican leader; Madden of Illinois, Longer that is a fatal spot. Darius Startle worth of Ohio and Campbell of Kan-

American Ambassador Denies Purported Press Interview.

No Authority for Statement That He Compared England of Today to France Before Revolution.

London, March 19 .- The recent purported interview with Ambassador saying that England today is in a condition similar to that which prevailed country may become a subject of official inquiry.

Sir Henry J. Dalziel, member Kirkcaldy, gave notice of his intention Huet, has since demonstrated was to ask Sir Edward Grey, secretary of within the range of possibility. Many state for foreign affairs, "wether his attention had been called to an interview published in the public press with the ambassador from the United States in which the latter is reported to have expressed the opinion that the general political conditions in this country at present are the same as those which prevailed in France before the revolution," and whether he has in his possession any information which would enable him to affirm or deny the authenticity of the interview.

Ambassador Reid is at present at his country home at Wrest park, convalescing from an attack of bronchitis. William Phillips, first secretary of the American embassy, who is in London, called Mr. Reid by telephone and was authorized by Mr. Reid to deny the purported interview.

The question which has been brought up by Sir Henry J. Dalziel is now before the speaker, who has the authority to reject it or to accept it. If he accepts the question will be asked formally in the house tomorrow

BOOK TREASURES OF PAST

Immense Sums Invested in the Copying, Illuminating and Binding of Them by Hand.

The cost of materials and copying, illuminating and binding books by hand made them the treasures of rich collectors and the pride of museums, palaces and convent libraries. Immense sums were invested in them, and a rare or unusually original copy became a gem in value, as well as sentiment. Cicero, whose magnificent Reid in which the latter is quoted as library was almost as famous as its owner's eloquence, declared that he had seen a parchment roll containing in France before the revolution in that the entire "Had" of Homer, which was compressed between the shells of a nut, a work of extreme skill and patience, which a French savant, M. such tours de force are said to have demonstrated the skill of ancient copyists and their economy parchment and vellum. In the eighth century it was with great difficulty that a monk of the rich Abbey of Saint Gall, France. gathered piece by piece sufficient parchment to begin the transcription of a rare work. Later, in 1120, a monk employed to prepare a copy of the Bible could not find in all England sufficient parchment for the purpose. -National Magazine.

In a hotel a room was secured which was situated immediately above the office of a money broker. At night a hole was pierced in the ceiling of this office. By the use of a drill and saw a circular plece of the flooring was easily raised. Beneath lay a thick layer of cement. A small orifice was made in this and an umbrella shoved down into the space below. The umbrella was attached firmly from above, and when opened received without noise all the fragments of cement which were dislodged as the hole was enlarged so as to allow of the easy passage of a person. By means of a rope ladder the descent was made readily into the office below. The next steps of the thief's work consisted in the bringing down of two cylinders of compressed oxygen and an acetylene generator charged with calcium carbide and water. With these he was able to produce a blowpipe flame of such intensity that steel fuses in it like lead in an ordinary gas jet. It required only a brief space of time to melt away so much of the door that the contents of the safe were acces-

TABLE DELICACY OF GERMANY

Westphalian Ham is Given its Piquant Taste by the Use of Juniper Berries.

Wherever a German table delicacy in demand, there is the Westphalian ham to be found. It is given its peculiar piquant taste by the use of juniper berries in smoking the meat. The juniper shrub is indigenous to northwestern Germany and so plentiful, especially in Westphalia, that to jacket on board a Japanese warship in its presence is due the growth, during the harbor and several other bullets the past several centuries, of two principal industries of this German province, the distillation of gin and the preparation of hams. After weeks of preparation the hams are ready to e smoked. The smoke houses consist sometimes of two, and sometimes of three stories, the fire being kindled in the lowest and the meat hung in the second and third, to which the smoke ascends through holes in the flooring. Westphalian hams are invariably smoked over a bright fire made of beech-wood only, except that juniper twigs and berries are constantly thrown on the fire. Beech-wood sawdust is strewn over the fire in case it becomes too strong. The smoking process requires on an average about eight days.

In about fifteen minutes there was s thud, as if the cage had fallen, and the sound of feet rushing down the cellar stairs. Then there were groans and loud oaths, and everybody talking at once, below, and the sound of a struggle. In the dining room we all sat bent forward, with straining ears before," he explained patiently, "but and quickened breath, until we disthis is genuine. It is just as I tell tinctly heard some one laugh. Then we knew that, whatever it was, it was over, and nobody was killed.

The sounds came closer, were coming up the stairs and into the pantry. Then the door swung open, and Tom and a policeman appeared in the doorcome in and help, I will telephone for way, with the others crowding behind. Between them they supported a grimy, unshaven object, covered with whitewash from the wall of the shaft, an object that had its hands fastened together with handcuffs, and that leered at us with a pair of the most villainously crossed eyes I have ever seen.

None of us had ever seen him before.

"Mr. Lawrence McGuirk, better known as "Tubby'," Tom said cheerfully. "A celebrity in his particular line, which is second-story man and all-round rascal. A victim of the quarantine, like ourselves."

Chacksmen get bad quarter

Work Several Hours on Safe in Springfield Only to Find a Plugged Coin.

Springfield, March 19 .- After working for several hours on the safe in the office of the People's Oil company, robbers broke it and found a plugged quarter. All the money had been taken out of the safe when the office was closed. Novices evidently tried the robbery. An ax, a chisel and a sledge hammer, as well as an explosive, were left behind by them.

Traction Company in New Move. Bloomington, March 19.-In order to increase the safety precautions on the more important night runs, the Illinois Traction system has decided to add a third man to the crew, who will assist the motorman and conductor in looking after orders, collecting fares and otherwise aiding in the operation of the train. The additional man will divide the responsibility and surround the movement with greater safeguards, while at the same time delays will be reduced materially.

Springfield High Wins Debate. Springfield, March 19 .- Debaters from the Springfield High school affirmative team defeated the negative team from Jacksonville High school. The decision was unanimous. The question was: "Resolved that the adoption of the initiative and referendum by Illinois as now provided for dick. in Oregon would result in better governments in this state." The judges were C. E. Lawyer, Danville; C. E. Elwood of Charleston, and B. C. Richardson of Alton.

Election of State Teachers.

Decatur, March 19 .- After agreeing to a closer federation with the Illinois tral Illinois Teachers' association elected officers as follows: President. Dr. W. C.
